

CTSA Resources Used

Core	Type of Service
Workforce Development	Oversight and guidance
Biostatistics, Epidemiology, and Research Design (BERD) Community Engaged Research Initiative Data Science and Informatics Evaluation and Strategic Planning Team Equity in Research Integrating Special Populations Duke-NCCU Bridge Office	Future collaborations

Other Institutional Resources Used

Group	Type of Service
*CTSI Office of Strategic Communications	Website development and marketing planning
Ebony Boulware, MD, Former Director, Duke Clinical and Translational Sciences	Established CPP within the CTSI. Dr. Boulware remains an important advisor to CPP.
Duke Multicultural Resource Center (MRC)	MRC served as an incubator before moving under CTSI.
*BOOST, Duke University	Early core stakeholder and advisor for CPP's efforts
Kevin Thomas, MD, Vice Dean for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion for Duke School of Medicine	Dr. Thomas facilitated communication about CPP amongst SOM and Duke Health leadership and provided strategic guidance for CPP's proposal to CTSI.
*CTSI: Clinical and Translational Science Institute; *BOOST: Building Opportunities and Overtures in Science and Technology

Additional Resources Used

Early in platform development, CPP co-founders realized they did not have adequate internal resources to support website development. They ultimately utilized Amazon Web Services and an external web development company, One Cow Standing, for their website hosting and development needs.